

Monday April 15th, 2019 - Fusion Hotel San Francisco

The California Hemp Investment Forum (CHIF) is a one-day forum bringing together leading investors, companies and farms in the accelerating California hemp industry. The forum consists of several panels and keynote presentations, as well as opportunities for all to connect with both the presenters and attendees. It is a great opportunity for investors, hemp businesses and farmers looking to meet people and find new opportunities.

Hemp is now a completely legal crop coast to coast. California, with the USA's leading agriculture industry and population, is positioned to grow into the nation's largest hemp & CBD growing, production and consumption market. There are many new California hemp farming and processing operations starting up in 2019. The California Hemp Investment Forum is designed to present opportunity and deliver results by bringing together key decision makers in hemp business, investment, farming, ag-tech, processing and marketing, that are actively growing a sustainable hemp industry in California. The day will also facilitate creating your own breakfast, lunch and dinner meetings with people you know and meet at this world class California location.
